MI^HO ANNULUK introducing a brand new song, IMPERATIVE - which will be the artist's first single release!

1. November 2019 - Imperative is the first exciting single from singer/songwriter MI^HO ANNULUK. What really stands out about her work is definitely the fact that she has no boundaries when it comes to genre definitions. In fact, she is always open to trying new things and explore different ideas. This is a turn-on for her music, because it allows each release to dig deeper and focus on different directions, without getting stuck in the usual pattern.

“Imperative” is yet another perfect example of MI^HO’s mercurial attitude! The song is airy and melodic, yet lush and dark, combining a perfectly tailored ambiance with the singer’s characterful vocal flow. For this one, she collaborated with IIX, a music producer based in Leipzig, Germany. The pair managed to create a nice chemistry, with MI^HO’s vocals matching the vibes of the instrumental to perfection! While this producer is commonly found working with Drum & Bass music, this track has a half-step feel, giving the song a unique edge.

“Imperative” shines for MI^HO’s hypnotic vocals and fast-paced beats, bringing an extra sense of depth to the mix. Fans of artists like The Knife, Bjork or Feist will certainly be able to connect with this one. There is also room for a rap-live verse, bringing more depth to the song!
